

P&G

EUROPEAN FINANCIAL LEADERSHIP SEMINAR

COULD YOU BE THE CFO OF AN $80 BILLION COMPANY?

Procter & Gamble is one of the world's most successful consumer goods companies. With 23 brands with sales above a billion dollars per year and 138,000 employees worldwide, P&G is a great place to start your career.

The European Financial Leadership Seminar is a one-week working session established in 1990. During this week, you will be exposed to a real life business case study, which challenges you to develop strategies and drive decisions together with top students from all over the world. While running a multinational business, you will have a chance to grow your management and financial skills by working in teams and interacting with experienced P&G executives. The EFLS is a great opportunity for you to learn within P&G.

Geneva, Switzerland, 18th-22nd April, 2010.

What former participants have said...

Daniel from Hungary

The EFS 2009 gave me the possibility to test myself in a challenging case study, working together as a team with excellent students from different parts of the world, all of us with the same goals, heading towards one direction. It meant testing my skills, experiencing what leadership and teamwork really are, getting support and feedback even from the top management, and also meeting interesting people and having a lot of fun. It was a unique opportunity to get the feeling how the tough real life business can be fun when you have excellent people on your side.

Dagmar from Czech Republic

The EFS 2009 was a unique experience that has literally changed my life. I met exceptional people from all around the world, we worked hard and had fun at the same time. Interacting with EFS coordinators and meeting P&G senior management gave me a clear idea which values and principles are important for the company. In short, EFS provides a great opportunity to find out how it feels to be part of P&G.
