What former participants have said...

Anita from Hungary

IDS 2009 was an amazing gift from Procter & Gamble to me. For a week I felt becoming part of the company, I sensed its spirit and I gained not just good memories and friendships but lifelong experience which can be used in everyday situations also. The week was very demanding, challenging, but at the same time motivating, entertaining and full of fun. It was the most intense learning experience of my life, so I am really happy I got the chance to take part in the seminar.
